CITY MATTERS.

Important Arrest.

SEVERAL TRUNKS OF GOODS, SUFFOSED TO HAVE seen Stolen, Recovered .-- A man named Hines arrived in this city on Sunday last, on the Louisville mail-boat, having in his possession some six or seven large trunks, filled with goods. He immediately sought an expressman, and had his trunks conveyed to a hotel on Front-street. From his strange maneuvers, Officers Mormon and Gilb were of opinion that all was not right. They sought an interview with Hines, who told several different stories as to his business, where he obtained his goods, &c., which confirmed the suspicion of the officers that he was anything but an honest man. He was accordingly arrested and confined in the Hammond-street Station-house, on suspicion. His goods were also taken into custody and removed to the Station-house. From all the circumstances connected with this case, the officers are of opinion that a heavy robbery has been committed in some one of the Western States, and that Hines was endeavoring to secrete the stolen property. He will be retained in custody until the matter is investigated. We were unable to ascertain the character of the goods, as the trunks were all fastened.

SCHOOL BOARD-LAST NIGHT'S PROCEEDINGS. A communication was received from Miss L. S. Barrett, Superintendent of Penmanship, nominating the following teachers as assistant teachers of Penmanship in the several Districts and Intermediate Schools, mentioned as follows: First District School-Miss J. Raschig; Tenth-Miss M. Hacking; Eleventh-Miss L. Nixon; Twelfth-Miss S. D. Wilson; Mount Auburn - Miss Hamilton; Second Intermediate School-Mr. Stultz.

Miss Kate Brooks was appointed to the Tenth District, at a salary of $30 per month. Miss Ellen Tice was appointed to the Twelfth District, at a salary of $20 per month. Miss Frances H. Kelly was appointed to the Thirteenth District, at a salary of $35 per month.

Sundry bills, approved by the Committee on Claims, were passed.

Mr. Powers, from a committee, reported in avor of taking the school census as it was done last year, viz: by assessors nominated by the local Trustees, and approved by the Board, each assessor to be paid for his labor at so much a head. Adopted.

Other reports were offered, and several speeches made, when the Board adjourned.

DEATH OF ME. JOHN WRIGHTSON .- We learn that Mr. Wrightson went to Arizona about a year ago, in the employ of the Santa Rita Southern Mail Company, and at the time of his death (Sunday evening, August 14th) was in charge of the company's ranche at Tamacacori. On the afternoon of his assessination, the herder reported several of the animals missing, and Mr. W. deeming it his duty to recover them, rode in company with the herder to seek them. He was fully armed, but fell into an ambuscade and was lanced in several places before he could have had time to draw his pistol. The object of the assassins was plunder, and as they rifled his pockets there is reason to believe that they obtained considerable property. Mr. Wrightson had gained the respect of those who knew him by his faithfulness in the discharge of his duties, his generous hospitality to the way-farer that passed his door, and his unflinching courage in the defense of his friends. We sympathise with his family and friends in their sudden and severe bereave-

Wно Did Iт?-А dog with a tin can tied to his tail was seen, yesterday afternoon, coming out of the Ninth-street Station-house, The frightened animal made his way to Western-row, thence north on Western-row to the Millereek-house-perhaps. Now, the question is, who tied that can to that dog's tail? We will watch the records in the Police Court to-day for an answer. Some say it was the police, while others say it can not be possible that they would be guilty of so cruel an act.

About half-past nine o'clock last evening, as Jailor Shockley and his assistants were in the hospital apartment, attending to a man named Myers, who was laboring under a fit of tremens, he was startled by the barking of the jail dogs in the yard. He immediately rushed out and received the intelligence that "the whole chain-gang were about to escape." He ran to the door leading from the gangcell into the main yard of the jail, and found that the bolt of the lock had been pried back, and that three prisoners, named Daniel Appleton, A. B. Curr and Charles Wise, had effected their escape by scaling the wall. They were immediately pursued and recaptured within a short distance of the jail. Mr. Shockley informed us that a few moments later the whole gang would have escaped. No blame can be attached to Mr. Shockley or his assistants. The prisoners were replaced in their old quarters and heavily ironed.

ALL ABOUT A HAT .- A German named George Sprecht, who resides on Everett-street. near Linu, went down town last Saturday night, and purchased a new hat. Arriving at home, his "frow" was very much displeased with his selection, and became very much enraged. The couple quarreled loud and long, until the arrival of a policeman, who escorted Sprecht to the station-house, Previous to locking him up, he was searched, when a double-barreled pistol was found on his person. Two charges, one of carrying concealed weapons, and one of disorderly conduct, were made against him. Yesterday Judge Lowe fined him ten dollars and costs for the former, and three dollars and costs for the latter offense.

ESCAPE FROM THE COUNTY JAIL .- A prisoner named William Neely, who was confined in the County Jail on a charge of grand larceny, made his escape from that institution, about noon yesterlay, under the following circumstances: He by some means received a fall and cut his thumb very badly. His wound was dressed by the physician, who ordered that he be allowed the privilege of the yard. Shortly afterward, while Jailor Shockley was absent on business, Neely climbed on the roof of the chair-gang room, from thence to the female department; from there he jumped on to the porch of the frame house, north-west corner of Hunt and Sycamore-streets, and from thence into Hunt-street, and escaped. He was captured about an hour afterward by Officer Mitchell and conveyed to his old quarters.

[Any communications from our friends will be thankfully received. Address "Press Reporter," Box 21, Covington, Ky.]

CITY COUNCIL-A special session of the Council convened yesterday afternoon at four o'clock. The first business of importance came up in the shape of a report of a committee, previously appointed for the purpose of considering the subject, recommending a board fence around the jail, the cost of which was estimated at $130. The chairman of the committee stated, briefly, that without a fence teols were slipped into the jail through the bars to aid prisoners to make their escape; that saws and other implements had been so given to the inmates; and that he (the chairman) hoped no one would object to the proposed improvement. But a Mr. Moore, from the "Fifth Ward," who appeared to delight in a reputation for volubility, opposed the report, de-claring Covington bankrupt; that her paper had gone to protest; and, in a regular spread-eagle style, (which some members hinted that he indulged in because some reporters were present) advocated economy in the city expenditures. He appeared to indulge a particular spite at the author of the report, and proposed that, if the fence was built, the figures, $150, be "protest." The report was rejected. The Relief Committees were then called, and only the one for the Third Ward responded, having ap-

The two first of these propositions encountered no opposition. The third called forth the "member from the fifth," who pronounced a culogy upon the old hall, so touching that several members were in such raptures that they forgot this world, sunk into the embrace of Morpheus, and sat dozing until the speaker concluded. The fourth resolution, too, came in for its share of his wrath, but without effect, for the whole ordinance passed—first by sections, then as a whole. On the latter vote there were ten year and ne may, (Mr. Moore.) If these propositions receive the sanction of the people, and then of the Legislature, the powers will be granted.
